From a Barbadian Will — 1739

Lastly I give my tender embraces to my dear and loving wife praying the Almighty to protect and bless her and my dear and well beloved children whom I earnestly charge to have continually before their eyes the fear of God and the respect of their mother and to keep unanimously and lovingly together regarding the eldership of one another like good brethren and so taking my leave and farewell of all my relations and friends like a penitent sinner I beg pardon of all the world and sign this my last will and Testament in the Island of Barbados aforesaid the third day of July one thousand seven hundred & thirty nine.

Elias Valverde (S)
