Money Kings:
Jacob Schiff and the Wall Street Titans
Who Shaped the Modern Age

Between the end of the Civil War and Jacob Schiff's death in 1920, America's modern financial age was born, guided in part by a select group of men, all of them immigrants of German-Jewish descent. Their legacies have rippled through generations, touching every corner of the world and suffusing American finance, politics, and culture. The newspapers dubbed Schiff and his contemporaries ‘Money Kings’—and in many ways we are living in the world that they built. In this presentation, Daniel Schulman will discuss this generation and its impact on the modern age.
