

Due to the Coronavirus Health Emergency, the AJA's physical facilities are CLOSED to the public until further notice. The safety of our patrons and staff is the utmost priority, so our staff are not onsite; however, if you are interested in “visiting” us from afar, you may still access our website at:

AmericanJewishArchives.org

Some suggested activities include:

- Search our catalog: simply go to the front page of the website and click in the “Search our Catalog” box at the top of the page
- “Ask an Archivist”: our archivists are safely working from home. You can send them a question at: <http://americanjewisharchives.org/collections/ask/>
- Peruse our Online Publications
 - The full run of the award-winning, The American Jewish Archives Journal is available and searchable online at
 - <http://americanjewisharchives.org/publications/journal/>
 - Peruse “First American Jewish Families” -- a monumental volume outlining the genealogies of 600 Jewish families (1654-1988)
 - <http://americanjewisharchives.org/publications/fajf/index.php>
 - Search in Concise Dictionary of American Jewish Biography -- a two-volume dictionary containing over 24,000 entries on notable American Jewish (1654- 1994)
 - <http://americanjewisharchives.org/publications/concise.php>
 - Study some of the speeches of our founder, Dr. Jacob Rader Marcus
 - <http://americanjewisharchives.org/publications/brochures.php>
- Explore Our Major Digital Collections Online
 - The Isaac Mayer Wise Digital Archives
 - <http://americanjewisharchives.org/collections/wise/home.php>

- The Rabbi Marc H. Tanenbaum Collection
 - <https://fa.americanjewisharchives.org/tanenbaum/>
- The Rabbi Herbert A. Friedman Collection
 - <https://fa.americanjewisharchives.org/friedman/>
- Jack, Joseph, and Morton Mandel Foundation Records
 - <https://mandel.americanjewisharchives.org/>
- Visit one of our online exhibits
 - Significant Documents Illuminating the American Jewish Experience
 - <http://americanjewisharchives.org/exhibits/aje/index.html>
 - Great Voices of Reform Judaism
 - <http://americanjewisharchives.org/exhibits/gv/index2.php>

Stay tuned for updates on innovative and creative projects that the AJA professionals are developing during this crisis so that you can visit us virtually.